

GRADUATES OF NAIS SCHOOLS ARE PREPPED FOR COLLEGE AND BEYOND

100%

Nearly 100% of graduates of independent schools that belong to the National Association of Independent Schools go to college. They are also more likely than other students to:

Have higher average SAT scores

NAIS students on average score 293 points higher than other students.¹

Be engaged as high school seniors

NAIS grads are more likely to have performed community service and to have talked with teachers outside of class.²

Enjoy being challenged academically

76% of NAIS students say their school work makes them curious to learn more (compared to 61% of public school students) and 74% enjoy tasks that require a lot of mental effort (compared to 59%).³

Feel prepared for college

In their first year of college, NAIS grads are more likely to have learned to ask questions in class, integrate skills/knowledge, and support opinions with logical arguments.²

Attend a highly ranked college

NAIS grads are more than three times more likely to attend top-ranked universities or liberal arts colleges than graduates of other high schools.⁴

Participate in extracurricular activities in college that build important work skills

Nearly a third of NAIS grads (29%) were extremely active in key extracurricular activities compared to 19% of public school graduates. Nearly half (45%) held a leadership position in a club/organization, compared to 31% of public school grads.⁴

Take part in experiential learning linked to workplace engagement and higher well-being later in life

42% of NAIS graduates conducted research with a professor in college (compared to 35% of public school graduates) and 42% worked on a long-term project (compared to 32%).⁴

Finish college on time

77% of NAIS grads complete college on time, compared to 64% of public school grads.⁴

RESEARCH SHOWS

- Extracurriculars help students develop leadership, time-management, and communication skills that help them succeed in jobs.⁵
- NAIS grads who participate in extracurriculars show higher levels of well-being later in life.⁴
- NAIS grads who participate in experiential learning are more likely to be engaged at work and have higher rates of well-being later in life.⁴
- U.S. students who finish college on time face lower student loan debt and earn higher starting salaries than peers who take longer to finish college.⁶

A PATH TO SUCCESS FOR FIRST-GENERATIONAL AND MINORITY STUDENTS

More than three-quarters of NAIS minority graduates (77%) graduated from college within four years, while 62% of minority graduates from public high schools did the same.⁴

WHAT ARE INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS?

Independent schools are private, nonprofit schools that serve students in pre-kindergarten, elementary, middle and/or high school. These schools are governed by independent boards of trustees and each school has a unique mission and culture.

National Association of Independent Schools

www.nais.org

Sources: 1. NAIS 2015-16 SAT Test Scores Report, NAIS. 2. "Independent School Graduates as College Freshmen" (based on the Higher Education Research Institute's "The Freshman Survey"), NAIS. 3. NAIS Report on the 2016 High School Survey of Student Engagement, NAIS. 4. NAIS-Gallup Report on NAIS Graduates, Gallup, Inc. 5. "It's everything else you do...: Alumni views on extracurricular activities and employability," Sage Journals. 6. Four-Year Myth: Make College More Affordable. Restore the Promise of Graduating on Time, Complete College America.